REPORT TO DONORS

THIRTY YEARS OF JUSTICE

“In front of a necklace beautiful as a dream, I admire above all the thread that united the stones and sacrificed itself namelessly so that could be one”

— Don Helder Camara, Brazil

This quote beautifully describes the work that CFCA has been doing for the past thirty years. CFCA has struggled to make a point in a world of contradiction and conflicts. Like Helder's thread, CFCA has united communities from the south, north and across Canada and working together we have been able to express and act on areas of greatest need. CFCA over its thirty years of existence has also become the thread linking new communities to potential supporters. Over time the communities in the south have built their own threads into networks that further support self-sufficiency. Above all CFCA has been a thread holding together these programs across the monstrous gaps that lie between policies and regulations.

As we celebrate the significant milestone of turning thirty, another stone has been added; the stone of long-time commitment. As we look to our future we are examining the hopes and challenges that we are sure to face.

CFCA continues to strengthen the thread by searching for innovative solutions to remain as a non-governmental sustainable organization; both in terms of our finances as well as our human resources. This allows us to collaborate with our partners in the south and provide global education opportunities at home. We continue to operate on a year-by-year basis with no guaranteed funding. The changing landscape of international development includes the ever increasing administrative requirements as well as the substantive time commitment required to secure funding outside of the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA). Our thread is the adaptability and creativity that has been cultivated as a result of our amazingly committed and hard working staff who are supported by a core group of committed volunteers.

Our partners in the south have been instrumental in keeping the thread strong and alive, as they are the ones reviving their own histories; their own identities. They have shown us time after time that if people are capable of reviving memory where death has ruled, memory is no longer stagnant water, because they are showing us faces of activists, martyrs, names, communities and life.

The commitment from our partners in the south made us comprehend the present and challenge us to understand what we need to do to continue working for the future. Our hopes for the future include being a vital and relevant organization thirty years from now and to continue to be a part of real social change in larger and larger pockets of society both in the south and in our own backyards. We can accomplish all this by remembering that CFCA and all the people that work for it make up the thread to guide us through this struggle.

Therefore, and most importantly, we would like to thank our members, our volunteers, our board members, our staff and our partners from the south, for continuing to beautify our thread at CFCA for the past thirty years.

In solidarity,

Delmy Garcia-Hoyt and Margo Nelson
Vice-President and Member, CFCA Board of Directors

Without the continued support of the numerous donors and volunteers across the country there would be no Change for Children. Thank you, the world needs you.

— Mary Burlie (Bridges of Hope, 1987)

“For 30 years, Change for Children has been focused on justice-based development in their support for social movements and civil society organizations in the developing world. Throughout their rich history, in addition to overseas projects, Change for Children has successfully implemented several initiatives that have engaged Albertans and Canadians in global education activities such as the famous 'Dialogues for Development', Annual Youth Summits and the Painting Peace mural project, that won a number of local peace awards. Having been involved with Change for Children since its inception, I offer my heartfelt congratulations on 30 years of success.

— Douglas Roche O.C.

“Raising awareness of global issues has always been a priority of this organization and Change for Children has successfully reached out to all Albertans in their efforts to address the roots problems of development. CIDA (Canadian International Development Agency) values its relationship with Change for Children. We recognize the critical role that NGOs play in our mutual efforts to reduce poverty and contribute towards a more just and equitable world and we look forward to continued collaboration with this creative, innovate and committed organization.”

— Ruth Shapiro, Director, Prairies Regional Office, CIDA, 2006

Change for Children would like to express its deepest gratitude

to all of the individuals, organizations, communities, project partners, schools, foundations, businesses, churches, volunteers, and donors that have generously given time, ideas and financially supported our overseas projects and our Education Program in Canada for thirty years. Your contribution to and belief in global justice is remarkable.

IMPACT 2005/2006

HUMAN RIGHTS

120 Alberta youth attended the 2nd annual Rural Roots conference to dialogue on this years conference theme "Global Voices: Human Rights and Global Citizenship.

PARTNERSHIP

In conjunction with Edmonton based Guatemalan and Salvadoran cultural associations, Change for Children raised over $50,000 for Hurrican STAN emergency relief in Guatemala and El Salvador.

CAPACITY BUILDING

In Usulután, El Salvador, youth leadership training at the Monseñor Romero popular Resource Centre has reduced the incidence of gang violence in the area significantly and encouraged youth to become involved in community development initiatives in the area.

HEALTH

Our HIV/AIDS prevention and treatment program in conjunction with Familias Saludables in Roatan, Honduras, has provided employment for 25 people living with AIDS who have distributed anti-retroviral drugs (to prevent mother-to-child transmission) to over 40 pregnant women with AIDS in just the first three months of the project.

SOLIDARITY

Westwood Unitarian Congregation in Edmonton set out to raise $9,000 for the construction of a well in Northern Nicaragua and after only six months of fundraising efforts, has raised over $13,000 in support of year round access to water for drought stricken communities in the area.

1976–2006

1970s

1972

- Earthquake in Managua – subsequent disparity in emergency relief distribution planted the seeds of unrest for the revolution.

1973

- The Government of Alberta establishes the Alberta Agency for International Development (AAID) granting agency and in subsequent years makes Alberta a leader in international development funding at the provincial level.

1976

- Change for Children Association is founded by Hank and Tillie Zyp and other members of their parish in Devon, Alberta.

1977:

- Chilean refugees become active on the Board and Committees of CFCA.

1979

- CFCA projects in solidarity with the people of Nicaragua intensify as the Sandanistas take power in the country.

1980s

1980

- Archbishop Monseñor Romero killed by the army in El Salvador. The mid 1980s begin decades of solidarity events and activities with Central America.

1983

- CIDA establishes an office at the Camrose One World Centre and the Alberta Small Projects Program to fund development projects submitted by Alberta based NGOs.

1983-84:

- Members of CFCA travel to Nicaragua and El Salvador and become increasingly aware of politically volatile climate in Central America. Travel is a catalyst for individuals getting directly involved as project holders after they view community projects, and efforts for self-sustainable/appropriate technological development.

1984

- Refugees arriving from El Salvador become increasingly involved in CFCA Board and Committees

1985

- Change for Children is the top recipient of Federal Grants through CIDA's Alberta Small Projects Program based in Camrose.

1986

1987

- CFCA hosts the International Youth for Peace and Justice Tour (UN) with youth from Sri Lanka, Nicaragua, Guatemala and Canada.

1987

- Father Joe Curcio, Theresa Zyp, and Richard Johnson go on the first CFCA delegation that volunteered to travel to Nicaragua at their own expense to learn from the poor. It is the middle of the contra war.

1988

- First Dialogue for Development – theme: “The Role of Canadians in the Developing World.” Future speakers will include Maude Barlow, Elijah Harper, and Doug Roche.
- CFCA participates in and hosts “Miles for Millions,” fundraising walks for international development created by Oxfam Canada in 1967.

1989

- Hurricane Joan hits the Atlantic Coast of Nicaragua, a powerful hurricane that causes death and destruction in over 12 countries in the Caribbean and Central America. CFCA is active in hurricane relief and rebuilding.

1990s

1990

- CFCA holds a Youth Global Awareness Weekend, a camp retreat for youth about international development and justice issues.

1991

- "Your Will Be Done" mural and resource book. The mural is painted by Hank Zyp and his students at St Joe's in the early 90s. It features Jesus in the centre, surrounded by pictures of about 300 philosophers, activists and revolutionaries from around the world and numerous quotes. It measures 8ft tall by 120ft in length and is permanently housed in St. Joe's school. Print reproductions of the mural are made and sell for years.

1994

- Youth Summit takes place in partnership with the YMCA

1995

- CIDA eliminates the Public Participation Programme, the program that funds all the Learner Centres across Canada.
- CIDA also shuts down the Prairie Decentralized Support Program at Camrose International Institute, the regional office by which CFCA projects are funded. While CIDA restructures, CFCA has no project or programs funding for over a year.
- CFCA, together with a number of other small NGOs, plays a lead role in the creation of the Alberta Council for Global Cooperation, which will be officially launched in 1997.

1996

- "Letters from Brazil," Al Gerwing's film set in CFCA partner projects in Brazil, airs on CBC in the fall.

1996

2005

- Hurricane Stan affects El Salvador and Guatemala. CFCA, in partnership with Guatemalan and El Salvadoran communities, raise funds and awareness for relief and rebuilding.

THIRTY YEARS OF JUSTICE-BASED DEVELOPMENT

Change for Children is firmly rooted in Global Education and Community Development.

OUR COMMITMENT

SELF DETERMINATION

Our development projects, their cost and priority are determined by our southern partners according to the current needs of their communities.

EQUALITY

Our projects are based on partnership and mutual exchange of ideas. We do not have offices or employees in the South.

LOCAL OWNERSHIP

Our development projects increase the capacity of local people and local community based organizations which provide local employment and local ownership of programs to reduce poverty.

RESPONSIBILITY

Educating Canadians about the challenges that people in the developing world face is an integral part of the work we do. We aim to strengthen North-South; North-North; and South-South relationships.

SOLIDARITY

New Canadians immerse us in the realities of communities in the developing world and through their involvement with CFCA, raise awareness of those realities and create opportunities to partner on projects overseas.

FUTURE

We foster long term partnerships with organizations that are working for positive, sustainable social and economic change. We are committed to understand what our role is – as Canadians and Albertans – in the struggle to alleviate global poverty and ensure a future for next generations.

DEVELOPMENT - YEAR IN REVIEW

GUATEMALA

E Chamaque, Comitancillo
 Partner: AMMID: The Mayan-Mam Association for Research and Development
 For the second year in a row in the Comitancillo region, Change for Children donors, in conjunction with Project HOPE - a student group from Grant MacEwan College in Edmonton, have financed the construction of two primary schools.

I Comitancillo
 Partner: AMMID: The Association for Mayan-Mam Research and Development
 AMMID works on several initiatives that promote indigenous cultural preservation, including curriculum development in native languages.

MEXICO

H Cuernavaca
 Partner: Caminamos Juntos
 This project involves health promotion activities, special needs assessments and nutrition and education support for children.

S Cuernavaca, Morelos
 Partner: Comunidad
 Here CFCA supports projects that promote alternative and organic agricultural practises as well as provide marketing support for local farmers. (WRF)

W Cuernavaca, Morelos
 Partner: Comunidad
 Comunidad's projects strengthen and diversify local economies, provide vocational training and marketing support for small producers and provide a stable income for single mothers.

HONDURAS

W Guadalajara, Jalisco
 Partner: Fundacion Santa Maria
 With amazing support from CFCA donors in Edmonton, the Fundacion is able to provide vocational training and marketing support for women and supply child care for those enrolled in the programming.

A Roatan
 Partner: Familias Saludables
 This project employs and empowers people living with AIDS to protect their human rights and educate the community about prevention and treatment options. (CIDA and WRF).

THIRTY YEARS OF JUSTICE-BASED DEVELOPMENT

NICARAGUA

H BOSAWAS

Partners: ADEPCIMISUJIN (Miskito indigenous association) and Centro Humboldt

This project promotes natural medicine, child nutrition and HIV / AIDS prevention in 35 indigenous communities. (CIDA and WRF)

E Pamkawas ▲

Partners: ADEPCIMISUJIN (Miskito indigenous association) and Centro Humboldt

Here CFCA is supporting the construction of a four room Primary school that will provide bilingual education to 340 students that currently attend school in a sub standard facility or do not attend at all. (WRF)

B Somotillo

Partners: El Bloque Comunitario and Centro Humboldt

Here CFCA supports a project that is providing 22 wells for the communities in this drought stricken area. The wells are providing community members with drinking water as well as water for household and agricultural use. (CIDA)

DENTAL BRIGADES This year we worked again with Kindness in Action and were able to send over 35 dental professionals to Nicaragua to tend to over 1500 patients.

I BOSAWAS

Partners: ADEPCIMISUJIN (Miskito indigenous association) and Centro Humboldt

Centro Humboldt works in the BOSAWAS Biosphere reserve with the Miskito and Mayagna indigenous associations to protect a forest reserve known as “the Lungs of Central America” through education and micro-enterprise initiatives.

C Managua & Esteli ▼

Partners: INPRHU (the Institute for Human Promotion) and FUNARTE (Foundation for Art!)

These organizations work in collaboration on a national campaign to provide human rights and self esteem training to children and youth working on the street. They also provide youth with leadership training so that they may successfully advocate for their human rights. (CIDA and WRF)

P Nicaragua

Partner: Centro Humboldt

Centro Humboldt's Water Action Project works to educate municipal governments and the citizens of Nicaragua about the consequences of deregulation and privatization of their water resources.

EL SALVADOR

C Tierra Blanca, Usulután

Partner: CEBES (Christain Based Communities of El Salvador)

In conjunction with the local Edmontonian Salvadoran community, CFCA supports the Romero Cultural Resource Centre which provides youth with activities, training programs and basic education that will redirect their lives from gang violence to meaningful vocations.

BRAZIL

C Maceio

Partner: Proyecto Thalita

This organization that works with street girls in Maceio. The initiative includes a project house where girls can stay to receive psychological attention, vocational training and support workshops. The project hopes to empower girls and give them concrete skills they can use to overcome poverty and the hazards of living and working on the streets.

P Salvador

Partner: GRUCON (Unified Group for Black Awareness)

GRUCON works with children and youth to organize and mobilize community members to take action for their rights and to obtain the resources they need to survive. (WRF)

PARTNERS IN LEARNIN*GLOBAL VISIONS

Change for Children hosted three documentary films and was a sponsor of Youth Media Day with the Global Visions Film Festival, which promotes film as a catalyst for reflection, discussion, and responsible action towards social, cultural, economic, and ecological health. CFCA hopes to continue this partnership and utilize film as a means to raise global awareness, learn from social movements in the South and strengthen movement building/critical analysis in the North.

MURAL PROJECT IN NICARAGUA

In the spring of 2006, Change for Children connected all of our Nicaragua partner organizations in a joint project that involved the creation of a youth human rights mural – for youth-by youth – in San Andres, Nicaragua. Youth from Managua, Esteli and BOSAWAS participated in a cultural exchange of music and mural painting skills.

RURAL ROOTS: YOUTH ACTION PROJECT

The project seeks to engage youth with policy dialogue about international cooperation and provide them with the leadership skills necessary to initiate community led actions directly related to these goals. This project hopes to bridge what is often understood as a 'disconnect' between policy and local action; a feeling particularly poignant for youth.

Highlights of 2005/2006:

- Rural Roots has become the vehicle for engagement of youth and development of skills critical to active global citizenship.
- CFCA established a partnership with Walter Duncan Gordon Foundation

"I want my music to have an effect in the world and CFCA has presented me with that opportunity so I am very happy to be involved." – Bill Bourne
